SET OF STAMPS COMMEMORATING
THE GREEK BOY SCOUT JUBILEE

On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the Greek Boy Scout Organisation a commemorative set of stamps of symbolic designs will be released.

Thus the services to the Nation by the Greek Boy Scout Corps are illustrated in the stamp showing Scout aid in calamities that befell the Country as well as in another stamp showing Scouts engaged in reafforestation work (40 and 60 lepta values).

The illustration of the Scouts of the three branches contemplating the Greek countryside is symbolic of the Youths' search for a field of activity and good deeds; the picturing of Scouts studying a topographical map suggests their training to prepare before action and the technical education they receive (1 dr. and 70 lepta values).

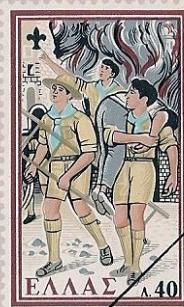

The 20 lepta value illustrates a Boy Scout overcoming obstacles under the guidance of the Scouts' protector Saint George.

The basis of the universal Scout brotherhood, the Scout Promise, which derives from the oath taken by the Ephebi (Youths) of Ancient Athens, has given the theme for another stamp (30 lepta value).

The 6 drachmae stamp illustrates the Boy Scout flag with all its decorations of distinguished services to the Nation. The same stamp pictures the medal of Military Merit awarded by King Constantine in 1922 (6 drachmae value).

Another stamp will illustrate the bust of H.R.H. The Crown Prince as the Chief Greek Scout (2.50 dr. value).

The special cover honours the founder of the Boy Scout Organisation Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell and it pictures the first experimental camp he organised in 1907, whence he laid the foundations of the Scout system of educating boys.

OATH OF THE ATHENIAN YOUTH (EPHEBI)

I will not dishonour my sacred arms; I will not abandon my comrade and will stand by him; I will defend the divine and human laws, alone or with others; I will deliver over to my descendants a Country not smaller in size, but greater and mightier than the Country my elders delivered over to me; I will obey the magistrates and will conform with the existing laws and the laws that the people will unanimously approve of in the future; should anyone endeavour to abolish the laws, or violate them, that I will not allow, but will defend them alone or with others; I will honour the cult of my fathers. That I swear in the presence of the Gods Aglaure, Enyalios Mars, Zeus, Thallo, Auxo, and Hegemone.

On my honour I promise:
 To do my duty to God, my Country and the King,
 To help other people at all times,
 To obey the Scout Law.
